Instant, secure translations with one click

Language should never be a barrier to speaking up. At Safecall, we have always believed that. It is why we offer reporting channels in over 100 languages, and why we have introduced innovative call-back features to empower reporters from every corner of the globe to raise concerns with ease.

AI Translation is the next step. Built directly into the Safecall portal, it allows reporters, case handlers, and investigators to translate case messages and full reports into their preferred language with the click of a button.

No external tools. No third-party translators. No compromise to confidentiality, anonymity, or the audit trail.

When language becomes a liability

When a report arrives in a language your team cannot read, investigations stall, reporters lose confidence, and genuine concerns risk going unaddressed. Reaching for a consumer translation tool or an external translator introduces data privacy risks, exposes reporter anonymity, creates gaps in your audit trail, and can be costly, particularly where reports are complex.

Whistleblowing legislation worldwide is tightening, from the US Sarbanes-Oxley Act and Dodd-Frank, to the EU Whistleblowing Directive, the UAE's ADGM Regulations, and Japan's 2025 reforms. Delayed, poorly managed investigations are a compliance risk in every jurisdiction.

AI Translation changes that. One click. Any language. Fully contained within your secure platform, with every translation cached, audited, and geo-restricted to enterprise-grade standards. Available to all Safecall clients, regardless of subscription level, from £500 per year.
